SAGITTA

Published by the Class of 1944

Suffield High School
Suffield, Connecticut

FOREWORD

It has been our privilege to record within these pages the highlights of the class of 1944. We hope the material we have collected may serve the students of Suffield High School as a reminder of pleasant days spent there.

In spite of the many changes that this, the greatest war in history have brought, these four years have been happy ones, in which we have made many friends, enjoyed various forms of recreation and acquired knowledge.

We, the class of 1944, present SAGITTA.

CLASS MOTTO

There is a crown for us all somewhere.

DEDICATION

We, the graduating class of nineteen hundred and forty-four, dedicate the "Sagitta" to Mr. Edwin W. Davis, who has so cheerfully and willingly worked with us and to whom we owe much for his encouragement and inspiration in making this yearbook a success.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a group composed of one representative from each home room. Its chief function was to initiate and regulate projects of common interest to the school.

The Council gave generously of its time to the War Stamp Drive. The members also formulated and participated in assembly programs, being assisted by faculty members.

SENIOR PATROL

The Senior Patrol was composed of senior boys. It was organized for the purpose of directing student traffic in the corridors of the High School.

BASKETBALL TEAM

The Varsity Basketball Team was hit hard by graduation and did not establish an enviable record for the 1943-44 season. The team lacked height and was considerably smaller than most of its opponents. Many of the boys on the squad were under-classmen, several of whom showed considerable talent and ability. The brunt of bringing honor to the blue and white colors in the future will fall upon their shoulders.

Mr. Howard C. Brown took over the coaching duties the first of January, Mr. Milton Orcutt having resigned to take a position in the Springfield Schools.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

President—Marilyn Orr

Vice-President—Beverley Hayden

Secretary—Dorothy Blakesley

Treasurer—Mary Lou Kingsbury

The Library Club runs the library. The members are the workers who stamp the books out, check them in, keep track of overdues and check the attendance. The girls in the Library Club also sponsor dances and other social events. In our bi-monthly meetings, suggestions are discussed and voted upon. The library is under the supervision of Miss Margaret Pomerooy.

THE SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

The Senior Dramatic Club was organized in the late fall under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Biggerstaff. The officers are:

President—Barbara Taylor

Vice-President—Charles Damon

Secretary—Jane Kingsbury

Twenty seniors joined this organization and during the year several one-act plays were given.

READER'S REFLECTION STAFF

The Reader's Reflection, our school magazine, represents a very active group in Suffield High. The staff this year is headed by Gloria Smith, Editor-in-Chief and Margaret Trudo, Associate Editor. The members are always busy gathering news, library material and special features to interest the paper's many readers. The mimeographing department has charge of an important phase of the magazine.

This year the staff sponsored a dance in order to raise money to send issues to Suffield High boys in service, and as a result many of our boys in camps in the United States have expressed appreciation for the paper.

In March a delegation of ten members, accompanied by Miss Biggerstaff and Miss Conway, attended the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention in New York.

MUSIC

MARJORIE G. WOLF, M.Ed.

New York University

Music Instructor

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club sang, both as a group, and with the Girls' Glee Club at various programs and assemblies. Director: Marjorie G. Wolf; Accompanist: Ruth T. Convey.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

This year the Girls' Glee Club did its part to "Keep America Singing" through participation in music assemblies and programs. Songs, ranging from the popular to the classic, proved an enjoyable experience for all. Director: Marjorie G. Wolf; Accompanist: Ruth T. Convey.

ORCHESTRA

Through instrumental study in school, the orchestra grew rapidly in membership and ability. This year a drum outfit was purchased which was proudly displayed whenever the group performed. Director: Marjorie G. Wolf; Accompanist: Helen M. Rydz.

CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1940, anyone entering the Suffield High School could not have helped noticing one particularly outstanding group of students. We were at last freshmen. Not to be outdone by the upperclassmen we held a class meeting and elected Henry Grabowski as president. The first half of the school year passed quickly. Coming back from the Christmas holidays we were told by friend teacher that exams were in preparation. Exams were new to us and we studied real hard for the next few weeks. Spring came quickly and soon the summer vacation was upon us, much to our joy.

We started the next school year right by electing Dorothy Blakesley as our president. In February we sponsored a Sweetheart Dance. Though this was our first dance it proved quite successful and helped increase our treasury considerably. We then began to think of class rings and the last two months of school were spent in looking over displays and deciding on the style we liked best.

September 1942 found us starting the last half of our high school life. We elected Francis Dunai as president; Frank Kotowski, vice-president; Alice Morris, secretary; Edward Zaczynski, treasurer. The big social event of the year was the Junior Prom. In keeping with the time, the committee chose red, white, and blue as the color scheme in decorating. Gloria Smith was chosen May Queen. Marjorie Ringland, Marjorie Sivula, Dorothy Blakesley, Elizabeth Coates, Barbara Taylor, and Shirley Munson served as attendants to the Queen.

At last came the day to which we had looked forward most, since first entering Suffield High School; that day in September when we entered school classified as Seniors. Having authority over the underclassmen and occupying the front seats at assemblies, with the other students standing as we marched proudly to our places, were only a few of the privileges given to us superior upperclassmen. But with these advantages came greater responsibilities. The Senior Patrol had charge of traffic in the school corridors.

At our first class meeting we elected James Ford as president; Charles Damon, vice-president; Alice Morris, secretary; Shirley Munson, treasurer. Before many weeks passed we began serious thinking on the subject of the year book. After much consideration we chose Alice Morris as chairman of the Yearbook Committee.

One rainy November day we Seniors traveled to the Brown Studio in Springfield to have our individual pictures taken. Shortly before Christmas we received the photographs which were not to be rivaled by the glamorous poses of the most striking Hollywood stars.

The Senior Dramatic Club, directed by Miss Biggerstaff, presented a number of one-act plays before several school assemblies. These proved to be highlights of the Senior Calendar.

All that's left now is graduation, which we are looking forward to. We shall be a little sorry to have it take place because with it we shall become men and women going out into the world to find our place.

As a last word we would like to pay tribute to those boys who, if they had not been called to serve their country, would be here graduating with us.

Class Prophecy ~

Time: 1984.

Scene: Uncle Sam's library.

Uncle Sam: Remember back in 1944, when the seniors were getting ready to graduate?

Columbia: Of course I do, Sam. Most of the boys were getting ready to go into some branch of the armed service. And quite a few of the girls, too. I wonder what became of them. Let's look in our family album and see. (Columbia goes out and returns carrying a large book. Sam takes it and flicks through the pages until he finds what he wants.)

Uncle Sam: Ah, here we are. Here's a snap of Marcus Deane, Stanley LaBounty, and Richard Hastings. Mark stayed in the Navy after the war and now he's an Admiral. Stanley and Richy gave it up to go back to the farm.

Here is another of some fellows in Navy uniforms, Bud Brockett, Charles Damon, Kenneth Dayton, and James Edmonds. Bud came back to become the world's most famous rhumba dancer. Chick's hobby of photography made him famous as a fingerprint expert with the F. B. I., Kenny is an overseer in the Bigelow-Sanford Plant, and James became the world's champion boxer.

Columbia: Here is a picture taken in Washington, D. C., of some girls who went there to be secretaries. Lois Bailey became secretary to Leona Malinoski, president of the National League of Women Voters. Julia Beach worked for Secretary of War, Stanley Zukowski. Julia informed me that Ann Ptak and Agnes Phillips couldn't stand city life and came back to Suffield to take positions in the Suffield National Bank. Jane Organek took a position as private secretary with the James Ford and Co. on Easy Street.

Uncle Sam: Oh, by the way, Bill Daley, chief aircraft designer for the Thomas Kennedy Aero Corporation, told me that he and Francis Dunai, Suffield's new Chief of Police, stopped in to have a bite of lunch at that new restaurant on Depot Street, "The Burpe and Belch Shoppe." They found it was managed by none other than that crafty Henry Kosinski. After going around with the revolving door several times they finally landed in the swanky lobby. They checked their hats with a rather pretty girl, Pat McKenna. The popularity of this establishment is due to the fine cooking under the direction of Frances Sharpe.

Columbia: Here is a picture of the beaming prima donna, Shirley Munson, of Marjorie Ringland's Light Opera Company, and Helen Rydz, concert pianist. Society sections in all newspapers carried an item about the piano concert which she gave for the benefit of the Red Cross at Carnegie Hall.

Uncle Sam: Girls and more girls! Ensign Dorothy Blakesley in her natty Waves' uniform and Helen Falkowski, who joined the Wacs. I have heard that Helen is back in Africa selling Dan Cupid's Cutie Face Cream to the natives. Rose-May Destromp's Dancing Troupe toured the army camps here and abroad. Why here is Helen Koc in the front row and isn't that Florence Zenisky right next to her?

Columbia: Here is a picture of Ed Zaczynski wearing the Distinguished Flying Cross, and Henry Grabowski, the lad who downed twenty-seven Jap planes.

Uncle Sam: John Jurkowski is the fellow who was almost shot because he was caught dragging a battleship home for a souvenir.

Columbia: Here's a photo of Viola Duni who became Suffield's newspaper reporter. She told me about Frances Morrell, Marjorie Sivula, Jane Kingsbury, and Anna Edmonds. Anna became a singing star in Hollywood. Jane is at present Dean of Women at Mapleton Hall, College for Girls, and Frances and Marjorie became bareback riders in Paul Haas' Circus now showing at Riverside Park. Viola also told me that Irene Brackoneski and Eleanor Durnakowski joined the ranks of the well-known Powers' models of New York and Hollywood.

Uncle Sam: Here's a picture of Barbara Taylor, the girl that became a famous movie actress. When she was young she was always looking for a man and she finally got one when she was forty.

Columbia: I just read in the Reader's Reflection that Gloria Smith is appearing in May Queen this week at the Hastings Hill Playhouse.

When I was in Frances Korpusinski's Beauty Salon the other day I heard that Suffield's largest and most modern department store is now under new management. June Hinckley and Eleanor Modzelesky are part owners. Regina Radziewski has charge of their payroll, Mary Letty Sheldon is in their advertising department, and Dorothy Sweatland is personnel manager.

Uncle Sam: Nurses! Beth Coates, Alice Morris, Marie Rehnberg, and Anne Smiegel. Beth saw service in the South Pacific theater. After the war she came back and married her childhood sweetheart. Flight nurse, Alice Morris kept right on nursing after the war and became head nurse at the West Suffield Hospital. Marie and Anne didn't stay in nursing long before they married, Anna, a famous Boston Neck surgeon and Marie a prominent Suffield business man.

Columbia: Sam, I'd like to take a ride to West Suffield Mountain and see how work is progressing on the new thousand room hotel. Where do you suppose Frank Kotowski ever got the money to put up a place like that? Suffield has reason to be proud of architect Jack Kennedy.

Uncle Sam: Yes, and Ed Zdun, too. He's doing the landscaping and building the golf course. Armand Conte is to have charge of sports and the swimming pool when the project is completed. Say, let's go out this afternoon. I'll call the Frank Pysz Snappy Taxi Service right away.

Columbia: Fine! Suffield is certainly growing and becoming a prominent place in the world. As I look back it's the 1944 graduates that are largely responsible for much of its progress.

Uncle Sam: Yes, they were a nice group—all true Americans—Yours and mine!

BARBARA TAYLOR

BUD BROCKETT

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1944

We, the class of 1944, in making our last will and testament, bequeath to our alma mater, Suffield High School, our undying loyalty.

To Mr. Sisson we leave our heartfelt thanks for his help and guidance during our four years at Suffield High.

To Mr. McAlister we bequeath our gratitude and appreciation for the privilege of attending Suffield High School.

To Gertrude Israel we bequeath an escalator—we can hope, can't we?

To Mr. Davis we leave the chemistry lab—still intact.

To Miss Biggerstaff we leave appreciation for the helpful advice that she has willingly given us.

To Mr. Brown we leave a pair of automatic finger snappers for use in study halls.

Individual bequests:

1. Lois Bailey leaves her curly hair to Helen Markowski.
2. Edward Zdun leaves in that high flying Plymouth.
3. Jack Kennedy leaves on sound-proof shoes.
4. Julia Beach leaves her good nature to Jessie Majeski.
5. Thomas Kennedy leaves his "dryness" to Thomas Kopernik.
6. Dorothy Blakesley leaves her sweet smile to Frances Laskowski.
7. Bud Brockett leaves after having enjoyed to the utmost his ever-remembered school days.
8. Anna Edmonds leaves her studious ways to any deserving Junior.
9. Charles Damon leaves to see if the rule proves true, "A girl in every port."
10. Helen Falkowski leaves her pleasant manner to Theresa Conte.
11. Alice Morris leaves her scarlet blush to any so inclined Junior.
12. Stanley LaBounty leaves after having added a little humor to our high school days.
13. Frances Morell leaves her shyness and unassuming manner to Barbara Coates.
14. Frank Pysz leaves with that little bit of a mustache.
15. John Jurkowski leaves his ability to "woman hate" to Bill Caldwell, although we deem it impossible.
16. Jane Kingsbury leaves her way with the boys to Nellie Glemboski.
17. Armand Conte leaves his ability on the athletic field to Louis Cannon.
18. Mary-Elizabeth Coates leaves to find Marcus Deane.
19. Henry Kosinski leaves with that troublesome car of his.
20. Rose-May Destromp leaves her intriguing quietness to Beverley Hayden.
21. Viola Duni leaves her title, "Captain of the Cheer Leaders," to any Junior successor.
22. Kenneth Dayton leaves, still blushing about the class vote of the "cutest boy in the Senior Class."

II

23. Eleanor Durnakowski leaves her well-kept hair to any lucky underclassman.
24. William Daley leaves with a pocket full of witty remarks.
25. James Edmonds leaves for the navy.
26. Helen Koc leaves her hair of "flame" to Jennie Kozikowski.
27. Henry Grabowski leaves after having caused all the boys to wish for a paper doll.
28. Jane Organek leaves her efficiency to Betty Underwood.
29. Edward Zaczynski leaves his ability to be successful in anything he attempts to Jackie Fleming.
30. Frances Korpusinski leaves her artistic ability to Peggy Cole.
31. Stanley Zukowski leaves his sleepy ways to Walter Hyjeck.
32. Marjorie Ringland leaves to keep track of a sum of money that she found a year or so ago. Oh, yes, it was a "Penny."
33. Shirley Munson leaves her tall slimness to Edna Prattson.
34. Marjorie Sivula leaves her lack of height to Frances Lewandowski.
35. Agnes Phillips leaves her quick smile to Marilyn Orr.
36. Regina Radziewski leaves her giggles to any sophisticated Junior. Are there really some?
37. June Hinckley leaves her ability to tell jokes to Mary Kement.
38. Patricia McKenna leaves her neat feather bob to Alberta Adams.
40. James Ford leaves Marilyn Orr—rather reluctantly.
41. Eleanor Modzelesky leaves her sophisticated ways to—well, all the Juniors could use a little.
42. Paul Haas leaves for the wide-open spaces of West Suffield.
43. Ann Ptak leaves with a large variety of clothes that has kept her looking neat daily.
44. Richard Hastings leaves his big bass voice to Roy Gallant.
45. Leona Malinoski leaves her inability to sustain a good argument to Dorothy Shreck.
46. Frank Kotowski leaves after having acquired a wealth of knowledge.
47. Gloria Smith leaves the Readers Reflection to Margaret Trudo.
48. Helen Rydz leaves the mimeoscope to Jean King.
49. Irene Brackoneski leaves her ability to dress neatly to Barbara Noble.
50. Barbara Taylor leaves her good sportsmanship to Margaret Butchon.
51. Florence Zeisky leaves her jolly manner to Adele Porgarzeliski.
52. Marie Rehnberg leaves her "swing and sway" walk to Sammy Kaye.
53. Anne Smiegel leaves Hazel Campbell her long walk to school.
54. Frances Sharpe leaves with those big brown eyes.
55. Mary Letty Sheldon leaves her dimples to Jeanne Palmer.
56. Dorothy Sweatland leaves to play her guitar to the soldiers at the "Stage Door Canteen."
